LOCAL POST OFFICE

"Clearing House" For China

As a result of the Sino-Japanese war Hong Kong has become the focal point for all mails between China and the outside world. Since the trouble began in Shanghai over a month ago, it has not been generally known that practically the entire mails for China have been passing through the Hong Kong Post Office.

A "Daily Press" representative who made inquiries yesterday learned that the local postal staffs have been working at a high pitch for over a month in order to cope with the rush of mails for all parts of China.

These are despatched from Hong Kong generally to Canton and are then dealt with by the Canton authorities.

It will be remembered that much inconvenience was caused to business people when that excellent air mail service, operated by the C.N.A.C. from this Colony to Shanghai, was suspended owing to the war in the north. It is now

FIGHTING

WHERE CHINA STANDS

POLICY EMBRACES ASIATIC EMANCIPATION

JAPAN'S SUICIDAL TENDENCIES

Addressing an influential and representative assemblage at a dinner function organised by the Y's Men's Club last night in the St. Francis Hotel, Mr. Alec Einar Pratt, Editor of "The Hong Kong Daily Press," vigorously criticised the insincerity of Japan in her attitude towards China generally and in regard to the present crisis particularly.

The President of the Club, Dr. F. I. T'sung, was in the Chair, and in his introductory remarks warmly commended "The Daily Press" and its Editor for the stand that was being so vigorously and fearlessly taken on behalf of China by this journal.

Mr. Peter H. Sin, Vice-President of the Y's Men's Club, thanked Mr. Pratt for his very brilliant talk and said that although some of the members present did not know Mr. Pratt they were all acquainted with his "outspoken leaders which must command the highest appreciation from all of us. Mr. Pratt is unbiased in his views—he is straightforward. In my opinion his paper has done incalculable good to the whole world by telling them the truth about the whole position."

Mr. Pratt spoke as follows:—

Few nations have availed themselves to a greater or better extent of the advantages of adversity than China. From 1911 to 1931 China survived the mighty travail of bringing forth a Republic in the face of enormous difficulties and hardships which were as baffling as they were fatiguing—yet the Republic survived, and the very fact of her survival is of the utmost significance at the present period of further trial and tribulation. During the past five years China has been welded into the numerically mightiest united nation in the world to-day, and by taking her stand against further territorial encroachments by Imperialistic Japan, China stands as the champion of that great cause—the emancipation of Asia from the thralldom of militaristic oppression.

It is a great cause demanding great sacrifices, but a nation which has patiently endured what China has at the hands of exploiters in general and Japanese land-lubbers in particular, is fully capable of making sacrifices and of enduring hardships which, I make bold to foretell, will not only amaze the world but which will inspire the enduring respect and admiration of all who hold dear Liberty and Independence.

SAND TURNED CEMENT

It seems but quite recently that I heard a keen observer of affairs in the Far East refer to China as "a tray of sand." That tray of sand has been turned to cement, as firm and whole as a Nature-made rock. Its impregnability is not so much physical as spiritual. Adversity has strengthened the character of China in a manner which is only now being made manifest. China can to-day only be defeated from within; no matter how terrific the onslaught may be from outside, time will prove that the spirit which animates China cannot be broken—it will endure long after present-day aggressors have ceased to exist.

I lay great store by the carefully considered words of China's leaders of to-day whose courage and loyalty has been tried and found sound during the past years of stress and strife, and I have not yet met one who was in any way fearful of the outcome of the present undeclared war instigated by that militaristically-terrorised nation Japan against that nation of famed peace-lovers, China.

Regarding the simple facts of the case, and it is quite clear that the only favour which China has asked of the world generally and Japan in particular has been to be left alone to work out her own salvation in her own manner. China has not sought territory from any nation, she has not endeavoured to force less crowded countries to give domicile to her nationals; even in the face of threats and bludgeonings by her notoriously un-neighbourly neighbour, Japan, China has never asked others either to carry or to share her burden. In a word, China has maintained with fine dignity her independence of spirit, hoping that time would be spared her to so organise her domestic affairs that when the hour of inevitable attack did arrive, then she would not be found wanting. That hour has arrived, and the fact that China has not been found wanting has greatly surprised at least one nation—Japan.

R.O. MAJOR COMMITTED TO TRIAL

At yesterday's hearing further evidence was taken in connection with the alleged conversation regarding the accused demanding a bribe on board the s.s. Fatshan.

Lo Fong, a representative of the Cheung Sing Chung firm, testified to the purchase of a consignment of wolfram discovered aboard the vessel on her arrival in Hong Kong. The wolfram was brought to his shop by a man named Ho Wing and witness paid $117.33.

Lai Kai, owner of a stall on board the s.s. Fatshan, deposed that on the morning in question the vessel arrived here. There were two baskets close to his stall and when C.R.O. 110 inquired of them one of his folks replied that they did not know. Shortly afterwards the defendant came along and forced open the baskets and when he saw that it was wolfram he said "$50 bail." The two folks told defendant that they would give him $10 but defendant became angered and ordered C.R.O. 110 to inform the comrade. Witness then stated that after short deliberation they agreed to give accused $40. Major accepted and C.R.O. 110 was called back and the money was handed to him. C.R.O. 110 who in turn handed it to Major.

CHURCH TEA PARTY

A friendly atmosphere prevailed at the tea party given by the Women's Guild of the Kowloon Union Church to a large number of lady members of the Shanghai Union Church who are here in the Colony. Rev. J. D. MacLean welcomed the visitors and on behalf of the local members expressed their thanks and appreciation for their attendance.

SINCERE COMPANY MURDER TRIAL

Revelation Of Arrest Of Two Accused

Evidence regarding the arrest of Li Fook-cheung and Au Hing who are respectively charged with procuring and murdering David Chan-Sze, managing director of the Sincere Company, at Prince Edward Road on May 13 was given by Mr. F. W. Shaftain, A.D.C.I., and Inspector A. E. Carey, before the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, at the Criminal Sessions yesterday.

Mr. H. G. Sheldon, K.C., and Mr. J. Whyatt, Assistant Attorney-General, conducted the case for the Crown. Li was defended by the Hon. Mr. Leo D'Almada, Jnr., instructed by Mr. Leo D'Almada, Snr., while Mr. D. J. N. Anderson, instructed by Mr. F. I. Zimmern, appeared for Au.

The jury empanelled for the case were: Messrs. C. M. Hall (Foreman), Yue Ping-yul, Yuen Cheung-wan, Lo Wal-cheong, J. Akber, M. Maa, P. P. Archipoff. Mr. F. W. Shaftain, A.D.C.I., gave evidence to the effect that on June 17 he went to the Sincere Perfumery, where he arrested Li. Inside Li's jacket, which was hanging on a wall, he found a diary, while there were several Chinese documents in the desk.

Second accused was picked up at an identification parade on June 30 by Fong Tat, Ho Man and Yeung Kong as having been to their divans.

Cross-examined by Mr. Leo D'Almada, witness said that a reward of $1,000 was first offered about one week after the murder, and this was subsequently increased to $3,000.

On July 31, an identification parade was held at Victoria Goal at which Ko and Li were present. The parade was first held in the shadows of the gallows but was later changed to the entrance, owing to rain. Two folks of the Canadian Cafe, five employees of the China Emporium, Dancing Academy, two persons from the Kowloon Confectionery and two from the Boston Cafe failed to identify Li.

CORROBORATIVE EVIDENCE

Corroborative evidence was given by Inspector A. E. Carey who added that he arrested second accused at the Tung Fat boarding house in Un Long on June 24.

Mr. Edward Chan gave evidence of identification of the body of his father.

Mr. Y. W. Lee, sub-manager of the Sincere Perfumery, stated he had known Li, who was the manager, for a number of years. Li was formerly a director of Sincere's but ceased to be so shortly after Mr. Chan's appointment as managing director sometime in July, 1936. Witness himself was a director.

Li used to draw $360 a month, but after Mr. Chan became managing director there was a general cut in salary of 10 per cent. Li was indebted to the Company to the extent of $3,400, and it was decided at a directors' meeting that unless he paid back $2,000 within two months he was to be asked to resign.

Cross-examined by Mr. D'Almada, witness declared that quite a number of persons owed the Company money, including Mr. Ma Ying-biu, who was indebted to the extent of more than one lakh, and Mr. Au Chu, who, as guarantor for his brother-in-law, owed about £400 in London.

It was also resolved at that meeting that these people should be asked to settle their debts as well, although no actual agreement in respect of them was come to. Since the arrangement, $400 had been deducted from Li's salary at $100 a month.

Mr. M. M. Watson, partner of Messrs. Johnson, Stokes and Master, stated that in the middle of last year his firm carried on negotiations on behalf of the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank with the Sincere Company, in respect of a loan of $5,000,000. The Sincere Company was then in an extremely bad financial state, and one of the conditions of the agreement was that Mr. Chan be appointed managing director for a period of ten years or until the debenture was paid.

STATEMENTS OF ACCUSED Before the acceptance of the agreement, Li saw him and told him that a number of directors were not in favour of it. He asked him to tell the Bank but not to mention his name.

Questioned by Mr. D'Almada, Mr. Watson stated that it was not unusual to find "dissension" in a directors' camp. When Li saw him he was still a director.

Chiu-Chiu-sing, accountant of Sincere's Perfumery, said Li owed the firm $5,751.44, and in June this year paid back $115.

The statements made by accused when they were formally charged were then read out by Yip Hoi-to, police interpreter.

First accused said: "I did not ask Ko to do it. I have not seen him for a month. He had been to my house previously. He requested me to find him a job in the Company. Formerly he was employed in the Life Assurance Department. That is all. If you ask me I will tell. Nothing further to say."

Later in the day, Li made a further statement in the course of which he said: "The statement he (Ko) made I don't know where he got it from. As I have been strict in the discharge of my duties, perhaps I have some enemies who might have instigated me. Such long statement I don't know how he got it. That is all I have got to say."

Au's statement was: "I have nothing to say except that I did not do it. It is not right for you to accuse me. I did not do it."

CONCLUSION OF CROWN CASE

At this stage the Crown Case concluded, and Mr. D'Almada then put his client in the witness-box. Li said that he had been with the Sincere Company for about ten years. He was educated in the Middle School University of Peking, the Cornell University and the Columbia University, New York, from where he graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Commercial Science.

Ko in fact did arrange for a loan of $500 for him in 1931, when he stated that he got the money from a friend named Chan in Canton. He had not repaid the loan but had paid over $100 interest.

He did not pay sums of $130, $170, $15 and $20 to Ko, as alleged. On October 27 last, he wrote a letter to Mr. Chan expressing his appreciation and gratitude for the arrangement he had made for him to settle his debts with the Company.

He never had any trouble with Mr. Chan, and never thought that his dismissal was contemplated. It was untrue that he had anything to do with the plot to murder Mr. Chan. He first learned of the murder from a folk, and was extremely surprised when he heard of it.

After further evidence was given by Li the hearing was adjourned until 10 a.m. to-day.

EARLY MORNING ROBBERY

Mr. Hans Christian Foyn, residing at No. 438, Shanghai Street, third floor, appeared as complainant at the Kowloon Magistrate's Court when three unemployed youths, Kwong Kwong, Wu Siu and Cheng Tung, were charged before Mr. E. Himsforth with burglary committed at the above address in the morning of Wednesday last. In the witness box Mr. Foyn identified the two leather bags as his property.

The crime was first discovered by a night soil cooler, Liu Tin, who stated that when he was off duty and was on his way home he noticed three strange figures crawling on the roof-top of the address in question. As he stayed and watched, he saw two of the figures disappear below. His suspicion was aroused and went to look for a constable, and the defendants were finally arrested.

First defendant who had three previous convictions of the same nature was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and recommended for banishment. Second defendant, it was revealed, was a returned banishment, having been deported from the Colony for a period of ten years in 1935. He was sentenced to six months' and 12 months' imprisonment for a breach of the deportation Ordinance. Third defendant was sentenced to a term of three months.

Fashion PRE-VIEW

THE LATEST IN SKIRTS

Fashion will concentrate on skirts this autumn and winter. There are pointed skirts touching the floor in as many as four places; there are skirts with points in front and behind. There are skirts with hems that dip, and skirts with hems that are raised in the front.

For young girls there are ballerina dresses, and "little girl" skirts which are very full, and show petticoats all round.

DARK DAHLIA TONES

At the Baroque showing there were a dozen kinds of skirt, but the peacock silhouette with a front dip was the most prominent.

Olive and mandarin green, pansy violet and dark dahlia tones were star colours.

Many Chinese patterns were embroidered on black taffetas or velvet in silver and silks in Oriental colours.

A cloqué piqué dress in white had a delicate floral background in pink, red and gold.

15 YARDS FOR A DRESS

Chinese white dresses in heavy piqué damask, such as was used in Victorian days for bedspreads, had vivid mandarin green velvet sashes for draperies. An evening coat in this material had the neck and shoulders smothered in gardenias.

Mr. Val St. Cyr, who designed the Collection, showed a dress of 15 yards of heavy ivory taffetas.

It had a sweeping dip-up line in front, showing an accordion-pleated petticoat of white chiffon, and it flowed out into an oval train. It had trimmings of narrow brown fur.

VEIL TO COVER THE HEAD

A crinoline dress in black velvet had a skirt with two hoops, a panel of silver embroidery in front, and a waistband of ermine. A flowing, transparent lace veil of black, which entirely covered the head, was attached to the waistband.

A long wedding coat of pink lace had pointed train, and was worn over a pink satin dress. Instead of a veil, there was a draped turban in pink crepe-de-chine.

Velvet wraps in gorgeous deep colours were shown—clermatis purple, dark olive green and pansy violet.

New Shades In Red And Green

A truly Parisian collection in the Jean Patou tradition displays perfect technique in cut and workmanship for a new silhouette in two individual colours—"Rouge Florentin" and "Vert Armure." These are worked up alone and the red sometimes in conjunction with black. This red is becoming in a rather dark shade, with the green ranging a tone between verdigris and olive which looks as sleek as black in afternoon dresses of crepe satin with matt and brilliant sides bringing different movements in design.

Matt yoke and long tight-fitting sleeves is one example for an ensemble with matching coloured lagoon coat showing golden seal within revers and high collar.

Afternoon coats are redingote fitted, and dresses of the new, svelte unbelted outline define no particular waist. In this collection on these styles they can be classified as either short or long.

Evening gowns contrast waist-line accuracy on this svelte silhouette and trail off into short pointed trains from split or draped fronts. Some of these hemlines are "petal," disposed with red or black glistening sequins forming the base and repeating corsage motifs in flat movements before shoulders of low décolletages.

On the other hand, an elegant evening gown of the new red shows a décolletage opening surrounded by a sable frill dipping from cupped bust to low back opening. Another idea is to make stiff muslin evening gowns of a new plissé that knife pleats down from the waist-line into a broad hem finished at ground length by a cut-out design similar to Chinese paper lanterns or, if you like, collapsible pie-crust frills. This motif lessens in breadth as it surrounds to the squared décolletage of an electric blue gown.

FASHION'S NEW DETAILS

Tight-fitting smart dresses are shorter than their accompanying coats. Silver belts like steel hangers in miniature are Paris dress ideas.

Patou has gloves which are half velvet and half transparent "on

MAYO'S

Early fall hats in the very newest shapes and colours are on show. The new styles are very snappy indeed, some are crowless, with little brims only.

SUEDE FLOWERS

Suede accessories to wear with tweeds, a favourite fashion, are appearing in some attractive designs.

One idea is to have two large suede roses fastened on a slim belt. They are matched twin flowers worn on the corsage or the lapel of a coat.

White suede roses on a black belt are smart. The belt, which has the flowers fastened in front, ties with black cords. Red or gold flowers with black are other effective alliances.

A necklace of suede poppies lies flat round the neckling of a woolen dress or jumper. The flowers, in different tones of gold and pale red, are strung on a green cord.

top." He also shows straight hanging fur coats three-quarter length, and many of black seal-skin.

Kidskin shoes, reversible dress fabrics, stars, fiddles, and bright-pumpkin birds (used as fasteners) and golden mesh handbags are some of Schiaparelli's notions.

A Youth Parade of Up-to-date Swim Suits

When Betty Grable swims, she insists on a suit that is brief, comfortable and colorful. Here the RKO Radio player models one in grey jersey dotted in scarlet. The shoulder straps descend to the waist in back where they cross and come to the front again, tying in a jaunty bow. The maillot suit is moulded to the figure by clever cutting and tucks.

What could be lovelier with Anne Shirley's flame-gold hair than turquoise blue? The young star chooses that very color for her brief swim suit, which is made up in a novelty weave and fitted to the figure by means of cleverly placed tucks. Anne is currently playing in "Meet the Missus," starring Victor Moore and Helen Broderick.

Another of Anne Shirley's striking swim suits is of blue and white jacquard-weave. The suit lies on the shoulders with feet blue silk braid, and buttons up each side with natural-color wooden buttons. Consistently, she likes the blue in this pattern.

PARIS FASHIONS

Colours For Autumn And Winter

FROM A CORRESPONDENT

Fashions for the autumn and winter are being shown by the dressmakers. Paris is crowded with buyers from all parts of the world. Some of the autumn colours are old favourites, others are distinctly new. Dark wine-reds, always good for the autumn, predominate, and blue-grape and blackberry colours are in favour. Nigger-brown and lighter russet, cinnamon and gingerbread-browns are shown by all houses. Sports-clothes come in deep, soft shades of green. Peacock-blue is an unusual colour for afternoon coats, but green-blues are more frequent.

Smooth-surfaced woollen materials woven in new designs are correct for tailored clothes. Impeccable tailoring allied to original ideas make the Creed collection interesting. The coats and tailormade are double-breasted and fasten with two vertical rows of plain buttons. Long town coats are trimmed with fur collars, but they may have facings of contrasting colour upon the revers. Thus a black coat with a collar, belt, and buttons of black astrakhan has gay red facings. The shoulders in these tailored coats are broad, but waist-lines are not obligatory. There is a choice between fitted redingotes and coats with full, swinging backs. This fullness is given with pleats or folded panels and falls from the lower shoulder-line.

Loose coats vary between fingertip and three-quarter lengths. Russet-brown jackets are braided with black and go with black dresses. Chevron tweeds and striped tweeds are correct for tailored "ensembles." Velvet is for the afternoon, and a pink blouse of silk crepe goes with a tallormade of ruby-red corduroy-velvet. All Creed's blouses have high necks and long, tight sleeves. They are of the silk figured with small Persian designs, of striped satin or of gold and black striped silk. Rose Valois has draped turbans of the same silks to wear with them.

Hand-knitted dresses for the autumn are made with the finest tweed yarns. They may be two-piece "ensembles," and Aileen Rice fastens her bodices with straight or broken rows of tiny tailored buttons.

Velvet blouses are right with knitted jackets and skirts. The revers of these jackets may be faced with contrasting colour. A claret-red jacket has navy-blue facings to match the skirt. Afternoon dresses are closely knitted with narrow silk ribbons. A black ribbon dress fastens with big black and gold sealing-wax buttons.

Leather coats are coming into fashion. They have shiny surfaces for sportswear and are lined with checked woollen fabrics. Dull and velvet-surfaced antelope skin is right for more formal leather garments. Marjorie Dunton specializes in leader work and tailors it well. Black antelope makes a full-length evening coat embossed with gold kid below the waistline. A white-satin blouse goes with a smartly tailored black

With Pique Bow

A long flat bow of white pique suggests the suggestion of a visor on a Colby's hat of dull navy blue. The pique also heads the back of the hat. The RKO Radio player is seen in "The Man Who Found Himself," featuring John Beal and John Fontaine.

antelope "ensemble" for the afternoon.

The furs which will be most fashionable during the coming winter are astrakhan, broadtail, and Indian lamb. These smooth-surfaced furs are right for collars and incrustations upon jackets and dresses. Fitted boleros of astrakhan are made without sleeves, and they are worn over coats of plain woollen material for cold days. Sleeves and yokes are often cut in fur and the lower portion of the coat or jacket may be in material of a matching or a contrasting colour. Fox pelts in all colours, silver, blue, and crossed, are the correct furs for the afternoon.

RUSSIA ENDANGERS POSITION

Berlin, Sept. 8. The reply of the German Government to the invitation to attend the Nyon Conference is expected to be forwarded on Thursday, although it is stated that the final text was not yet decided on Wednesday. Informed quarters state that it is the attitude of the German Government that a discussion of the precarious situation in the Mediterranean is vitally important. It is felt, however, that the Soviet Russian note to Italy has considerably complicated the situation. Trans-Asian News Service.

"LET'S GET MARRIED"

There's a laugh a minute in Columbia's rollicking new screen comedy, "Let's Get Married," which has its run at the Alhambra Theatre to-day. It is one of the funniest and most original comedies screen in many months gaily flavoured with a riotous, roughneck romance and sharply spiced with undertones drama.

Ida Lupino, Ralph Bellamy and Walter Connolly have the three top roles in this sparkling picture which has been so capably directed by Alfred E. Green.

The story hinges on the romance of Miss Lupino, daughter of politico Walter Connolly, and Ralph Bellamy, the official government weather forecaster. The very handsome menace in the case is Reginald Denny, scion to great wealth and family tradition, who is being groomed for Congress under the sponsorship of Connolly.

Miss Lupino is grand as the hot-tempered, hard-headed young firebrand, Bellamy, as usual, turns in a fine performance while Walter Connolly is flawless as the political ward heeler. Much of the comedy is supplied by Raymond Walburn as Connolly's private secretary, with capable portrayals supplied in lesser roles by Nana Bryant, Robert Allen, and Granville Bates.

"GIRL OVERBOARD"

Thrilling, heart pulsing drama showing at the Queen's Theatre to-day, with the screening of Universal's fast moving story of fire at sea, "Girl Overboard!" With Gloria Stuart and Walter Pidgeon in the leading roles, "Girl Overboard!" tells the gripping story of a hunted woman who stakes everything—even life itself—for the man she loves.

"Girl Overboard!" will thrill you with its sweeping action, haunting drama and tender love story.

Miss Stuart plays the role of a girl who flees from a too persistent suitor—later to be enmeshed in the net of the law and accused of the man's murder. Walter Pidgeon plays the District Attorney who is expected to prosecute the woman he loves.

Highlighting this unusual screen offering are some of the most amazing and realistic ship fire scenes ever filmed. In the inferno of this burning ship Gloria sees destroyed the only proof of her innocence of murder. Flames reach out and consume the written confession of the real killer—leaving Gloria a fugitive from justice.

Besides Miss Stuart and Pidgeon, the cast includes Bill Burrud, Robert Cavanaugh, Gerald Oliver Smith, Jack Smart, David Oliver and Charlotte Wynters.

AFTER THE THIN MAN

William Powell and Myrna Loy, the merriest, maddest married couple ever to come out of Hollywood, step from the last thrilling page of "The Thin Man" into the first hilarious chapter of the sequel millions have demanded—be written "After The Thin Man" showing at the Oriental Theatre to-day and to-morrow.

Dashiell Hammett, dean of smart, sophisticated mystery writers, was dared to top "The Thin Man." "After The Thin Man" is his answer.

CANTOR'S ARABIAN NIGHTS

"All Baba Goes To Town" Is latest Production

It is over a year and a half since Eddie Cantor made his last film, "Strike Me Pink," which turned out to be not so good as some of Cantor's previous efforts and caused a split between Eddie and Sam Goldwyn.

So the famous big-eyed comedian is making his present comedy, "All Baba Goes To Town," for Twentieth Century-Fox, who are spending something like $2,000,000 on it.

The story starts in modern times with Cantor as a film extra before his dreams carry him to Old Baghdad. The film is a satire on President Roosevelt's New Deal and has Eddie Cantor reorganising the city of Baghdad, putting a tax on the harem girls and tiling licence plates to the ends of camels!

Luise Rainer, Roland Young (as the Caliph), June Lang, Virginia Field and Tony Martin and others are in the cast.

Miss Lang is one of the Caliph's wives but she is secretly in love with Martin. Eddie helps the course of their true love to run a little more smoothly.

STAR DUST

Ruby Keeler, wife of Al Jolson, has signed a contract to make two films a year for Radio. Her first under the new deal will be "Love Below Freezing," a musical with an ice-skating background. Mitz Green will also be in the picture.

Claudette Colbert, star of "It Happened One Night," "Private World," "Maid of Salem," and numerous other big productions, is to star in "The Women," film version of a very successful Broadway play. The picture will probably be made by an independent company.

Wallace Beery will star in "The Bad Man of Brimstone" with J. Walter Ruben directing. Ruben is also author of the original story.

"Gold Diggers in London" will be the title of the next musical in the series. Joan Blondell and Dick Powell will again have the leading roles.

Warners are testing Walter (Dodsworth) Huston for a leading role in "Panama Canal." Claude Rains has already been cast for the role of General Gorgas.

Alice Faye, Tyrone Power and Don Ameche have all been given new seven-year contracts by Twentieth Century-Fox.

Roy Del Ruth will direct Sonja Henie in "Broad, Butter and Rhythm," her next film for Twentieth Century-Fox. Don Ameche will be the leading man.

LET'S SING AGAIN

Bobby Breen, of whom Eddie Cantor opined, "There is no one on the screen of any age, with a greater personality," now comes to stardom with laurels from his radio success as the boy hero in "Let's Sing Again." Sol Lesser Production featuring Henry Armetta.

Bobby has been acclaimed as the boy wonder of the entertainment field to-day. Just eight years old, he has displayed his versatile talents as a singer and actor for the last four years. Starting his career in a Toronto night club as a tot of four, he has sung his way into the hearts of millions on the vaudeville and dramatic stage, and more recently on Eddie Cantor's broadcasts. The film is showing to-day at the Majestic Theatre.

SONG OF THE CITY

With added courage, major motion picture studios have begun a new campaign for building up new film personalities in productions created for star material.

Not only does the new campaign concern players but it also has been extended to the development of new producers, directors and writers.

First to get under way in the unusual programme was Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "Song of the City," which is at the King Theatre to-day. Although a picture important enough in story and plot for topnotch stars, studio executives chose it as a "finishing school" for new acting and production talent.

Margaret Lindsay, a recruit from the stage, has been given her biggest opportunity as the Italian songbird in "Song of the City."

Gloucester Hotel: Mr. E. J. Prince, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Stephens, Miss S. Stephens, R. D. Van Royen, Mr. Russell, Jr., H. M. Wilbur.

MALAYAN PROBLEM OF STREET BOYS

One of the most serious social problems which Malaya has to face is that of the street boys who, with no homes and no visible means of subsistence, are useless both to themselves and to the community at large, states the "Malaya Tribune" in an editorial.

It is boys of this class who have made such thorough nuisances of themselves by working the car jags "racket," to the annoyance of both motorists and police, and in many cases their energy has resulted in fines which have probably swallowed their takings for the last month. It is good to know that efforts are being made on behalf of these boys by certain Malayan organisations, and the work being done by the Community Service Committee is an outstanding example of the way in which the interests of the boys and the community can be safeguarded.

It is not possible, of course, for any organisation, unless its entire attention is devoted to the problem, to make any real impression on the evil—for evil it undoubtedly is. But the results have shown that if properly cared for these boys make citizens quite as useful as those born in happier circumstances.

At a meeting of Ipoh Rotary Club, it was stated that one boy, taken off the streets and sent into the hotel, had responded so well to the kindness shown him that he had made a success of a job found for him in an Ipoh firm, and has now married. Ipoh Rotarians can well be proud of this case, for it provides complete justification for the confidence of the members that gratitude and wholehearted response would follow the provision of a home and regular food for these youngsters.

WOMAN CHIEFTAIN

The Skye Gathering, the most Highland in atmosphere of all the Highland Games, took place recently at Portree, under the chieftainship of a woman.

She is Mrs. Flora Macleod of Macleod, owner of Dunvegan Castle, one of the oldest inhabited houses in the British Isles, who was elected chief of the Clan Macleod Society last year.

Mrs. Macleod is the widow of Mr. Hubert Walter, of "The Times." When Dunvegan Castle was made over to her in 1924 by her father, Sir Reginald Macleod of Macleod, she resumed the name of Macleod in place of Walter. At his death the following year the male line of the clan chieftainship, which had remained unbroken since the 13th century, came to an end.

28TH LADY OF DUNVEGAN Sir Reginald had no sons, and his nephew, Iar Breac Macleod, on whom hopes, inspired by the terms of an ancient prophecy, had been centred, was killed in the war. Mrs. Macleod therefore became 28th Lady of Dunvegan.

She in turn has no sons, and by the terms of the entail the estate, but not necessarily the chieftainship of the clan, descends to her daughter, Mrs. Archibald Corrie Macleod.

It is rare for a woman to become chief (or should I, for fear of another telephone call from an infuriated Scots reader, say "chieftess") of a clan.

HONG KONG AID FOR WOUNDED

Relief Association's Activities

The Hong Kong branch of the National Women's Relief Association held a meeting at the Chinese Merchant's Club, China Building, yesterday when they entertained a large gathering of Hong Kong Press representatives.

The opportunity was also taken to report on the work of the local association.

In her report, Madame Kan Ki How explained how the association came to be formed. She said that after the outbreak of hostilities in North China and Shanghai, Madame Chiang Kai Shek and other leading ladies in Nanking got together for the purpose of establishing an organization in order to furnish first aid and other medical supplies to the Chinese Army. From that beginning branches were formed in a number of Provinces, and they, in Hong Kong, also formed a branch mainly through the instrumentality of Madame Sun Fo. Lady Ho Tung, Mrs. M. K. Lo, Madame Eu Tong Sen, Madame Fo Po Tsai, Mrs. C. H. Wan and others. The association was formally established on August 25.

GOOD SUPPORT

The executive committee consists of one member from each of the seven departments. This committee meets three times a week, while the association as a whole meets once a week.

Donations had come in very satisfactorily, said Madame Kan. A meeting was held on Wednesday when delegates from branch associations were present. The best means of co-operation between each other in order to attain the maximum efficiency was discussed. It was decided to form a joint committee to which each association would send two delegates. The committee would meet every fortnight.

The guests were welcomed by Miss Hu Mok Lan, daughter of the late Mr. Hu Han Min, in Chinese, her speech being translated into English by Dr. (Miss) I. Ho, daughter of Sir Robert Ho Tung.

The following are the office-bearers of the Hong Kong branch of the Association:—

ASSAULTING A WIDOW

Sentence of 14 days' imprisonment with the alternative of a fine of $10, was passed on Chung So, aged 32, when he was found guilty of the charge of assault on a widow Chan Sze, by Mr. E. Hims-worth, at the Kowloon Magistracy yesterday.

In evidence, Chan Sze stated that she was on her way to get back a dollar which her friend had borrowed from her sometime ago. When she entered No. 59, Woosung Street, defendant was sitting outside with his legs stretching across her way. She asked defendant to make way for her to enter. He alleged that defendant abused her. She then scolded him and claimed that defendant suddenly jumped up with a stool and hit her on the head. She rushed out of the house and called out for help, and a constable came to the scene and took the parties to the station.

Defendant in the witness box told a totally different tale altogether. He claimed that complainant had picked up the stool to strike him, but when he got up to dodge it, she was frightened and tripped over and knocked against the stool.

BETTER TRAVEL

New Pan-American Clippers

"Bigger, better and brighter" is the motto of all airway companies these days. Imperial Airways have just tried out their giant flying boats to be used in the trans-Atlantic and Far Eastern runs.

Now comes details of the new giant "Clippers" which Pan-American Airways will operate on the trans-Pacific run from San Francisco to Hong Kong.

The first airliners ever built for the transportation of passengers over ocean air routes, these huge "Transoceanic Clippers" are designed to carry 50 passengers on 24-hour schedules between America and Europe. On shorter routes, they provide accommodation for 75 passengers.

FINE ACCOMMODATION

Larger than ships in which Columbus first crossed the Atlantic, these new Clippers will have a top speed of around 200 miles per hour and a cruising range, with 50 passengers, of over 3,200 miles. The finest accommodations ever provided in transport aircraft are being built into the Boeing-type Clippers and include private cabins, dining lounge, air conditioned and sound-proof cabins throughout. The big flying boats will carry a crew of 10 and have complete living quarters for the crew on the Flight Deck. The four giant engines are accessible during the flight by means of a catwalk which runs through the wing with entrances to each motor section.

HONG KONG, SEPTEMBER 10, 1937.

THE WAR OF WORDS

Already a great deal of confusion has been caused by the obviously biased reports circulated by a certain type of news agency which does not rely solely upon the sale of its news to balance its budget. However, with reputable and independent news agencies operating in the same field of journalism, it is not difficult for the person of average intelligence to discriminate between what is news and what is propaganda.

There is certainly a war of words in progress to-day in the East which approximates to the war of words which was waged some twenty years ago in the West.

Our comments on this most important subject are prompted by our receipt of two very nicely produced booklets issued for the edification of the world by the Foreign Affairs Association of Japan. This body has never been conspicuous for its impartiality, but in these latest products the compilers—they are not amusing or constructive enough to be termed authors—have set a new record in the way of dressing fiction to look like fact. But to them it is all fact—as "fact" is interpreted in Japanese official circles.

PHILIPPINE REVIEW

A Dream Fades

Present Manuel L. Quezon's indirect bid for a Congressional re-appraisal of the Philippine situation, voiced in an interview, indicates that political independence for the islands is losing some of its appeal.

Don Manuel is apparently inclining toward a courageous rationalization of a grave situation. Even the intimation that unpredictable circumstances may force an abandonment of island independence called for both courage and statesmanship, of the first order, since it was on the independence issue that he attained the commonwealth Presidency.

From the time it was first promised, the Filipino's hope of nationality has been based upon the theory of collective security—upon the hope that his political independence and territorial integrity would be guaranteed by the major powers with interests in the Far East. That hope was blasted in September, 1931, when, in defiance of a mass of binding treaties and solemn covenants entered into by the great powers guaranteeing the political and territorial integrity of China, Japan struck the blow at Mukden which converted the entire province of Manchuria into the puppet empire of Manchukuo.

Japan And The Philippines

The belief of Dr. George C. Butte that the Philippine Islands will eventually pass under the domination of Japan is entirely satisfied.

As Dr. Butte, who has spent a number of years in the islands in high official position, points out, the natives are racially related to the Japanese and they live in the domain in Japan's influence.

Moreover, Japan needs the islands. It can afford to import products which the Filipinos have to sell. One of the reasons the United States is conferring independence upon the possession is that several of our economic groups are demanding tariff from insular commodities.

Whether Japan will actually annex the Philippines is another question. The government of Nippon may find it more practical to leave the islands to self-rule.

How the North China Affair

Arose" is the title of the more expensive booklet (40 Sen).
With some knowledge of the Far Eastern situation and blessed with a sense of humour, perusal of this amazing example of mendacity is possible—but only just. It represents forty-two pages of extra special pleading for world toleration of Japan's attitude towards China. From the Lukuchiao incident to August 20, when this publication came off the presses in Tokyo, the Chinese have been the aggressors incessantly. Nauseating instances of alleged Chinese brutality fill a large section of this blatant example of Japanese propaganda, whilst under the sub-heading, "Who Governs China," it is made quite clear that all the terroristic regimes that have ever been, multiplied an astronomical number of times, could not even approach in magnitude to the enormity of that "secret organisation" which, under the direct control of the arch-fiend Chiang Kai-shek, dominates all China.

To say the very least it is a most frightening picture. However, that is not by any means all that the Japanese propagandists have to say about the China which is so outrageous that it has to be chastised.

We now come to the second effusion by the Foreign Affairs Association of Japan. Entitled,
"What Happened at Tung-chow?" the contents purport to supply the answer. Sufficient indication of the general tone of this booklet can be conveyed by stating that it contains page after page crammed with "atrocity" stories written as Jane Austin might have written after visiting a house of ill fame.

Some of the headings of these wild stories almost make the tears shoot out of the eyes like machine-gun bullets. Here are a few: "Atrocities of Mutinied Chinese Soldiers"; "The Story of the Massacre Told by Two Women"; "A Treacherous Action"; "Two Days in a Dust-bin"; and so on and so forth.
We need say no more on this score. As far as the art of propaganda is concerned it is very old and very poor stuff.

About all these heartrending stories, calculated to turn the world against China with loathing and disgust, there is one point of great significance, namely, that without exception every story has been culled from one of the following sources, the Domei News Agency, the Tokio Asahi, the Tokio Nichi-Nichi and the Yomiuri Shimbun.

All that China wants the world to know is the truth. This she can do in a simple and dignified manner which, of course, precludes the use of "atrocity" booklets. The Japanese as manifested in this first propaganda onslaught in the form of "atrocity" booklets.

SCHEME FOR CONFINING SUBMARINES TO SPECIFIED AREAS

Will Be Impracticable Without Germany And Italy

—THE TIMES

MEDITERRANEAN CONFERENCE

London, September 9.

The Permanent Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, Sir Robert Vansittart, left London this morning by train for Geneva to attend the International Conference summoned to meet tomorrow afternoon at Nyon to decide on measures necessary to suppress piracy in the Mediterranean.

This afternoon the Foreign Secretary, Mr. Eden, who will lead the British delegation, accompanied by Admiral of the Fleet, Lord Chatfield, will fly to Paris. They will continue the journey to Geneva by the night express.

In Paris, Mr. Eden will meet leading French Ministers when he will be the guest at dinner of M. Delbos, the French Foreign Minister. The French Premier, M. Chamberlain, and M. Blum will be present.

Invitations to attend the Conference, which were extended jointly by Britain and France, have been accepted by Turkey, Egypt, Greece, Russia, Rumania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

At noon, replies from Italy, Germany and Albania were still awaited, but press reports state that Count Ciano handed the Italian reply to the British and French Charges d'Affaires in Rome late this morning and that at about the same time Germany's reply was delivered to the British and French Embassies in Berlin.

The Plans of the British Government for freeing the Mediterranean of the present menace will not be disclosed until the Conference assembles and newspapers anticipate that their nature will to some extent depend on the composition of the Conference. The possible absence of Italian and German representatives from the conference was in contemplation when the British proposals were considered by the Cabinet yesterday.

The "Times" remarks that the scheme for confining, by agreement among the Powers, all submarines to certain specified areas and recognising that those operating outside them would be suspected would become impracticable in the absence of Germany and Italy. Various other measures which might be adopted are expected. The newspaper dismisses possibility of the convoy system owing to the practical difficulties involved and "Times" adds: the need in the present situation is to make practical attacks so dangerous to attackers that they will be abandoned. For this purpose the number of men-of-war in the Mediterranean, engaged on defence of merchant ships, will have to be still further increased. But it is evidently desirable that the burden should not be borne by this country alone. International co-operation should have a deterrent effect on the perpetrators of the illegitimate attacks even more marked than material forces of certain other nations are already protecting their own merchant ships and all those so engaged, whether, or not they are to be reinforced by others, could be directed to afford protection to any ship known or seen to be attacked regardless of nationality.—British Wireless.

U.S. SHIPPING WARNED

London, Sept. 9.

United States shipping are warned of the dangers from submarines in the Mediterranean by daily bulletin from the Hydrographical Bureau of the United States. This procedure is rather extraordinary as hitherto Hydrographical Bureau reports only give warnings of storms and other natural dangers.—Reuter's Bulletin Service.

Italy and Germany have replied to the invitations to attend the Mediterranean Conference both offering to discuss the whole question at the Non-Intervention Committee meeting in London but declining to go to Nyon.—Reuter.

STOCK EXCHANGE SHOWING SIGNS OF FIRMNESS

London, Sept. 9.

Nervousness in the international situation was less apparent in London today the Stock Exchange showing signs of firmness as operators began to recover nerve. The French franc, however, was again the object of heavy bear raid which the French control has been obliged to take up on large lines. Forward francs were offered mainly from the continent. The Franco-British authorities have been lowered a peg and are now supporting francs at 133.12. Among the commodities rubber firmed up on outside buying induced by signs of increasing American interest.—Reuter.

NO TRACE YET OF LOST PLANE

British Assistance
Appreciated

Berlin, Sept. 9.

There is still no news of the missing Lufthansa aeroplane in Central Asia which left Anhsi a few days ago on the return flight to Kabul. The British promptly replied to General Goering's request for co-operation to search for the plane, permitting German machines to fly over British territory. This British assistance has created the most favourable impression in Berlin.—Reuter.

CHINESE LINES STILL INTACT

Shanghai, Sept. 9.

All principal Chinese lines remained intact to-day despite severe attacks from land, sea and air, particularly from the air. The Japanese, who yesterday claimed the occupation of the Far Eastern Race Course, now admit that they only reached the fringe of it.

During the bombing operations to-day, Japanese planes showered pamphlets addressed "to our brethren" attacking Nanking for alleged pro-communist sympathies. The Japanese proclaimed that a triangle had been formed, taking in Shanghai, Hangchow and Nanking and declared these places as being in the danger zone subject to bombing, and declaring that the only safe means of travel was by the sea "which is under Japanese control."

The sole survivor of the lost battalion at Paoshan, Private Wei Chien-chung reported to the Chinese Headquarters that all his 800 comrades were annihilated. It is reported that the 1,200 Americans from Nanking, Peiping and other points of the interior are concentrating at Hankow. They will proceed to Hong Kong by rail.—Reuter.

FIGHTING RESUMED ALONG PEIPING-SUIYUAN LINE

Kweisui, Sept. 9: After a lull of three days, fighting was resumed on the Peiping-Suiyuan Railway on Tuesday afternoon, dragging on through last night.

Five Japanese planes were observed yesterday reconnoitering over Hsingho, in Suiyuan about 100 miles west of Kalgan. The planes left after circling the city for some time.

Another plane was seen over Fengchen just north of the Great Wall 100 miles south-west of Kalgan, flying in heavy rain. The plane confined its activities to observations.—Central News.

INTERNATIONAL RED CROSS OFFICE IN HANKOW

Hankow, Sept. 9: The Central China office of the International Red Cross was established here at a ceremony yesterday.

The American, British, French, German and Italian consuls-general, leading foreign business men, and representatives of various circles here, were present at the ceremony.

A committee of 40 was elected at the meeting to plan the work of the new office. The foreign consuls heads of the city are included among the members of the committee.—Central News.

CONTRIBUTION TO WORLD PEACE

London, Sept. 9.

As already reported a new extension of the activities of the British Association which ended its meeting at Nottingham yesterday is likely to result from the decision to send a delegation to the Indian Science Congress in December. Commenting on the decision, Professor Allan Fergusson, one of the General Secretaries, said that in international contacts by sending delegations to foreign countries and this might make a special contribution to world peace. They were, he added, in communication with the American Association and hoped to strengthen the bonds between their two Societies.—British Wireless Service.

FIERCE FIGHTING

On Yangtsepoo Sector

Shanghai, Sept. 9: Fierce fighting, which broke out early this morning, is continuing in the Yangtsepoo sector where the Japanese, after launching an offensive with warships and planes, failed to make any substantial headway.

The Chinese are still holding their positions despite the heavy shelling and have, up till 8.30 o'clock to-night, repulsed the Japanese onslaught.

A Japanese detachment of 500 men, with a number of tanks roaring ahead, advanced from the Shanghai University site on Chun Kung Road towards Yangchichai where they encountered a strong Chinese resistance. Finding their way blocked, the Japanese turned to Yangchichai in an attempt to cross the Jukong Bridge and attack the Chinese flank but when they arrived they found the bridge had just been blown up by Chinese mines.

At present both forces are firing across the creek. Meanwhile, the Japanese warships anchored off Jukong Wharf shelled the Civic Centre, causing further damages to the already damaged buildings.—Central News.

CHINESE IN VAST ENVELOPING MOVEMENT ON TSIENFU LINE

Tsinan, Sept. 9: According to reports from Machang, headquarters of the Chinese forces on the Tientsin-Pukow Railway, wings of the Chinese forces along the line are folding rapidly toward the north, and will in all probability sandwich the remaining Japanese forces south of Tientsin between the two flanking Chinese forces. The Chinese main force along the line is still concentrated in the vicinity of Machang.—Central News.

CHINESE RE-TAKE SEVERAL VILLAGES NEAR LOTIENCHEN

Shanghai, Sept. 9: Several villages north of Lotienchen, important highway town on the near Paoshan, were recaptured by the Chinese forces after a 12-hour encounter with a Japanese landing party of 1,000 men.

Most of the fighting to-day was at close range, and in addition to hand-grenades and machine-guns the Chinese attackers used big swords during the onslaught.

Changchiao and Fengchichai were taken by the Chinese but after heavy sacrifice. It is official admitted to-night that three officers and 160 soldiers were killed while the war area was strewn with bodies of dead and wounded Japanese.—Central News.

C.N.A.C. RESUMES HANKOW SHANGHAI AIR LINE

SHANGHAI-HANGCHOW TRAINS TO RUN AT NIGHT

Trains for Nanking, which have previously run during the day time, are now operating on a night schedule to prevent further air raids from Japanese planes.—Central News.

The Home Secretary stated a month ago that he was working with the prison Commissioners on a comprehensive review of the whole field of prison administration with the object of preparing an orderly plan of progress on a wide front in the next two or three years.—British Wireless Service.

VIOLENT FIGHTING

Japanese Use Heavy Tanks
For First Time

Shanghai, Sept. 8.

After violent night attacks by the Chinese troops, the Japanese on Wednesday launched a great counter-offensive, for the first time making use of heavy tanks.

Although fighting still continues with undiminished force, the Japanese have had to ask for reinforcements around Paoshan, because of the heavy Chinese attacks.

The Japanese efforts to establish themselves in the New Shanghai Administration building have also been repulsed by heavy Chinese defences. For the first time in many days, Chinese planes bombed the Japanese warships on the Whangpoo.—Transoceanic News Service.

NAVAL BATTLE

Bilbao, Sept. 9.

The insurgent authorities report that the cruiser Baleares fought five armed trawlers belonging to the Government and also a destroyer.

The latter and several of the trawlers were seriously damaged but managed to escape.—Reuter.

U.S. BASEBALL RESULTS

Two Team Contest

New York, Sept. 8.

The National League race is developing into a two-team contest. New York Giants, now leading, won again to-day, and Chicago Cubs, in second place, showed the St. Louis Cardinals down another peg.

Giants beat Brooklyn, nine to seven, McCarthy hitting a home run. Winsett bagged one for the Dodgers. Chicago shut out the Cards, four to nothing, Hartnett homering.

Philadelphia and Boston shared honours, each winning once. But Pittsburgh won both starts against Cincinnati, seven to six, and eight to two.

In the American League New York beat Boston twice. Philadelphia blanked Washington, Caster pitching, and Washington blanked the Athletics in the night-cap. Cleveland beat Detroit, and Chicago won from St. Louis ten to one.—Reuter.

JAPANESE POLICY OF FRIGHTFULNESS

Shanghai, Sept. 9.

It is reported that the Japanese are carrying out their policy of "frightfulness" by indiscriminate bombing and shelling Hongkew, Chapel and Yang-shu-poo.

The eastern and northern districts of Shanghai are now nothing but devastated and blasted areas.

Owing to the bombing raids of Japanese planes, the inhabitants of Nantao have all removed into Foreign Settlements for safety.—Chinese Evening Press.

PROSECUTION ACTING IN BIASED MANNER

WEAKNESS FOR SCALES

COUNSEL ALLEGES

Being an acquaintance of masters and owners of various Chinese shops, a youth, after being dismissed from his employment made three loans of Chinese scales on three consecutive dates of this month. The defendant Leung King was brought before Mr. W. D. McCallum, yesterday charged on three counts of larceny.

Inspector Mair said that the defendant was in the employ of the Tung Yuen shop and about last December the defendant was dismissed. His former employer was in the habit of sending him out to make loans of this kind, so on September 1 the defendant went to one of the shops in Queen's Road and borrowed a pair of scales. The day after that he got another pair by the same method and on September 3 he applied the same method for getting the third scale. All the scales were sold to marine hawkers and the defendant received only $1.05 for them.

As the defendant had signed a bond previously his Worship dealt rather seriously. A fine of $50 or six weeks was imposed for breaking the bond and on the three charges a sentence of nine weeks' hard labour was imposed.

At this stage Mr. McCallum raised an objection stating that it was immaterial and threw no light on the charge of possession of dangerous drugs which had been amended. He also stated that the prosecution was acting in a biased manner and was sowing prejudice in the mind of his Worship.

S. R. O. Grimmer asked for an adjournment to consult the law officers of the Crown. An adjournment of one week was granted.

RETURNED BANISHEE IN TROUBLE

Fong Sai-ying, aged 18, unemployed, appeared before Mr. K. M. A. Barnett at the Kowloon Police Court yesterday on charges of larceny of a camera, travelling clock and a fountain pen from Mr. E. Michelman, ship's officer residing at Kingsclere Hotel, and a bicycle, property of Yum Po-shum. Sgt. Brook said that Yum reported the loss of the bicycle which was lost on Tuesday outside his house in Nathan Road. On the same day he saw defendant riding the bicycle in Hong Kong. He informed the police and had defendant arrested. Defendant's cubicle was searched and the property, subject of the first charge, was found. A pawn ticket was found on his person revealing the fact that the clock valued at $40 was pawned for $3.50. Defendant was sentenced to five months' imprisonment on the additional charge of returning from banishment.

MORE SILVER FROM CANTON

A large shipment of silver brought from Canton yesterday was transferred to the vaults of the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank. It was learned that the shipment was brought by rail as far as Shum Chun, and was then loaded onto lorries and conveyed to Hong Kong.

TRAINS RESUMING ON MONDAY

It is announced by the Kowloon-Canton Railway that a trial run will most probably take place on Saturday or Sunday. By Saturday the repairs of the line at Tai Po will be completed and trains will resume their normal schedule on Monday.

the burden of which was that "Japan cannot now bury the hatchet. She must fight China to a finish!"

All this within a few days displays quite an amazing variety of sentiment from within the Japanese Government. What a queer assortment of olive-branches and mailed-fists!

Japan's sincerity in desiring to find a solution to the present problem can only be gauged by her acts, and they are eloquent of her notorious perfidy. Is it to be presumed that by the bombing of universities and the shelling of schools and the making a death-roll of Chinese civilians estimated at approximately 50,000, that these are the methods which a nation sincerely desirous of amicably settling this dispute would adopt? Is the instituting of a blockade a measure calculated to localise the crisis?

Japan's Foreign Minister has declared that "the Nanking Government failed to manifest a grain of sincerity." That is, of course, not true; but if it were, would it be possible for Hirota or any of his colleagues to recognise sincerity in any case? Personally, I have my doubts.

BOGEY COMMUNISM

One of the main planks in Japan's platform is anticommunism, and in the campaign to "chastise the outrageous Chinese" it has been asserted on many occasions by Japan's spokesmen that it is essential for the peace of Asia to stamp-out "Communism" from China. As there is no Communist Party in China it is rather difficult to know what the Japanese precisely mean.

It has been contended by Japan that there are Communist influences at work which are directed against Japanese interests, of course, that must not be tolerated. But even supposing there were Communists in vast hordes in China, then by what right does Japan dare to interfere in a matter purely domestic to China. There are thousands of communists in Britain, for instance, and there are also quite a goodly number much nearer Japan than that—so why select China for this "purging"? If Communism is such a terrible menace to the peace of Asia, why does Japan not concentrate her forces on Russia? Possibly Russia is being reserved for some future occasion, presumably after China has been cleaned-up. Then, of course, there is India where there are quite a considerable number of Communists. But why stop there or anywhere, for that matter?

This propaganda stunt by the Japanese which features "Communism" so prominently is another instance of an absolutely groundless assertion being made by an absolutely mendacious assemblage of Japanese politicians whose jobs depend upon their ability to bolster-up a social system which is rapidly showing signs of cracking. Surely there are many features of real Communism which are commendable, and if it should be the will of the masses of China to incorporate some or all of those commendable features in the administration of the Republic, then of what concern can that be to Japan? But the facts show that Japan in the past, far from being a suppressor of Communism was actually an aider and abettor, because when Chiang Kai-shek was striving to effect internal peace by disciplining those irregular armies in the North which purported to be united under the Communist banner, the Generalissimo received absolutely no co-operation from the Japanese. Proof is not lacking that Japan's attitude towards those who were then traitors to China was such that it stimulated them to depredations calculated to bring ruination to the North.

ANTI-JAPONISM

What Japan really aims at is the suppression and ultimately the obliteration of the Anti-Japanese Movement and the National Salvation Movement which have, by virtue of their sheer altruism, made such remarkable advancement in China of recent date. These movements, as some of the members whom I have met have explained to me, aim at the developing of the strength of China through unity by paying particular attention to the needs of the masses. They aim at representation of the people, by the people and for the people. They actively support local industries and plead for the further industrialisation of China and the protection of young industries by an adequate tariff wall. They advance the theory of a self-reliant China. In fact they claim that China has every right to do what Britain, America, Australia, Canada and other countries have done and ARE doing. In a word, although on certain matters of detail they may be at variance with a section of the Kuomintang, yet on the essential point of a national policy implemented by a united China they stand on common ground with all who support the Central Government.

The point is—whatever happens inside the territorial jurisdiction of the Government of China is the affair of that Government and of none other, and it would be as unjustifiable for the Government of China to demand the abolition of some of those rabidly anti-Chinese societies which flourish in Japan as for Japan to demand the abolition of societies inside China which are not particularly partial to Japanese officialdom.

NOW IS THE TIME

About a fortnight ago forty "influential members of the Diet" met in a cafe in Tokio and adopted a lengthy resolution, the sentiment of which is contained in the final paragraph as follows:—"We must be determined to fight with China even for a long period if necessary. Our country must muster its maximum power both materially and spiritually. This is a golden opportunity for Japan to settle the China problem once for all. If we lose this chance, we feel sure that the evils will remain for another 100 years to come." The names of the so-called representatives of the Japanese people were not contained in the report I received, but I was assured that they were all Right. Very much so, I should imagine!

Undoubtedly those members of the Japanese Parliament represented a certain school of thought, but I am convinced from what I have learned at first-hand from journalistic colleagues who have studied the subject of Japan on the spot during the past eighteen months, that it is not the masses of Japan but that terroristic minority known as the Military Party which, having wallowed in an orgy of spending and now finding the people impatient and dissatisfied, have decided to risk everything—including their nation's honour—on the terrible gamble of a war, foolishly imagining that by such means the people's minds will be taken off their appalling poverty and pitiable hardships. Perhaps the time is not far distant when the military dictators of Japan will learn to their cost full stomachs mean much more to the masses than empty victories. Japan may soon have to concentrate all her forces on her Home front—and then? "Now is the time!" says Japan. And China answers. "Yes!!"

FOUR-DAY TEST MATCHES IN ENGLAND NEXT SEASON

NO CHANGE IN POLICY

Test Matches between England and Australia in England next summer will be of four days' duration, with the last match played to a finish if neither side has won two matches, or if the results be even. A message from Australia stated that the Australian Board of Cricket Control is considered certain to agree to five-day Test Matches if they are proposed. Such a proposal, however, is not likely to be forthcoming.

The Board of Control for Test Matches at Home, at their meeting at Lord's last November, decided that, subject to the concurrence of the Australian authorities, the Test Matches with Australia in 1938 should be played under the same conditions as in 1934. "There has been no change in the policy of the Board of Control," an official of the M.C.C. declared.

SUTCLIFFE'S UNIQUE RECORDFeats Against Lancashire

Sutcliffe's 100th century for Yorkshire, scored against Lancashire at Sheffield, was also his eighth made in these Battles of the Roses.

No other Yorkshire or Lancashire batsman approaches this record for these keen and occasionally grim encounters, which are second only to England and Australia Test Matches for tenaciousness and wholehearted endeavour.

Sutcliffe's success in the Yorkshire and Lancashire games is one more proof of the manner in which he seems to reach his best for the big occasion. His century at Sheffield, made in a game watched by 55,000 spectators in the three days, was recognised by the crowd in a way which the great batsman will never forget.

Percy Holmes, partner of Sutcliffe in many long first-wicket stands, is next to Sutcliffe in the list of century-makers in Yorkshire and Lancashire games, with six 100's. He made two of them in the same match, in 1920.

A. C. MacLaren, Reggie Spooner, and Ernest Tyldesley have been Lancashire's leading century-scorers in the Roses games with four each.

Sutcliffe's eight 100's against Lancashire have been scored as follows:—132 in 1919, 135 in 1927, 140 in 1928, 126 in 1928, 106 in 1929, 195 in 1931, 135 in 1932, and 122 in 1937.

From his first season with Yorkshire in 1919 Sutcliffe has revelled in these struggles. He first played for Yorkshire against Lancashire at Old Trafford, and such celebrities as Jack Sharp, J. T. Tyldesley, Dean, Parkin, George Hirst, Rhodes, and Denton were playing.

Sutcliffe did not allow the occasion to disturb him. Batting at No. 7, he scored 28 and 53, and was Yorkshire's top-scorer in the second innings. Later in the season, at Sheffield, he went in first against Lancashire with Holmes, and the pair put on 253, Holmes scoring 123 and Sutcliffe 132.

CHINESE POST OFFICE

Not Handed Over To The Japanese

Shanghai, Sept. 9.
The report published in a Japanese newspaper to the effect that the Chinese Post Office at East Yu-hang Road had been handed over to the Japanese was flatly denied by the head office to-day.

The Chinese Post Office Administration declares that since East Yuhang Road Branch Post Office is in the Hongkew war area is has not been safe for Chinese members to work there alone.

The assistant postal commissioner, a Japanese, was instructed to take a number of Chinese clerks to handle the work in the branch office. In the evenings all the official documents were brought back to the head office for safe-keeping.

The Japanese were never asked to take control of the Yuhang office, it is claimed.

CHINESE PLANES ATTACK
WARSHIPS

Shanghai, Sept. 9: Following on the heels of the Foreign Office announcement that the Chinese Air Force would be "compelled to take appropriate action against all Japanese naval vessels on the China Coast," several squadrons of Chinese planes staged three surprise attacks on the Japanese warships anchored off Woosung last night and early this morning.

The first attack took place at 8 o'clock last night followed by a second raid at 1.55 this morning.
The intrepid Chinese fliers, under cover of darkness, circled over the vessels several times despite the heavy anti-aircraft fire from the warships. Bomb after bomb was released as they dived periciously over the vessels.

One cruiser is reported to have been struck and a fire started aboard. This report, however, has not been confirmed.

Believing the raids over, the Japanese warships prepared to pass the night quietly but were taken by surprise 15 minutes later when another fleet of heavy bombers zoomed low overhead and rained a number of explosives on the ships. All the Chinese machines returned safely to their base.

Another group of planes also appeared over Yangtszepoo and Hongkew and unleashed a hail of bombs on the Japanese positions.

Land batteries in the Pootung sector also kept up a 30-minute barrage of the Japanese lines in Hongkew.

sent out during the Russo-Japanese War, is now in the vicinity of Shanghai, according to military observers.

Two divisions of regulars from the Japanese Army are now participating in the fighting around the city. In addition to 130 warships, transports and auxiliary vessels, the Japanese have sent nearly 200 planes to fight in the Shanghai area.

Owing to failure to complete land operation plans in the Woosung sector, General Matsui, Commander-in-Chief of the Japanese forces in Shanghai, has sent an appeal to Tokyo asking for six more divisions to be rushed immediately to Shanghai.

Owing to the failure of the Japanese air force, the home government is reported to be sending a new commander to take place of the incumbent in Shanghai.—

an announcement made by the Chinese military headquarters this

The most severe encounter was in the Yangtszepoo sector, where the 1,000 members of the Japanese landing party advanced to the outskirts of the Civic Centre in Kiangwan. The Chinese entrenched in the vicinity did not open fire on the advancing Japanese until at close range, when all machine-guns in the sector concen-

SEQUEL TO FIGHT ON S.S. GLENAPP

Between Chinese Crew And European Officers

Arising out of a fight between the Chinese crew and European officers aboard the S.S. Glenapp on Wednesday, 11 members of the Chinese crew were charged with assaulting four European officers before the Hon. Commander J. B. Newill, D.S.C., at the Marine Court yesterday.

The complainants were Messrs. P. Whitaker (fourth officer), R. W. Trethewey (second officer), C. B. Nicholls (third officer) and I. M. Cormichael (midshipman).

The defendants were Fong Ching-po, 44, Ip Kai-yu, 35, Chan Ah-lam, 20, Wong Ah-po, 37, Wong Wah-yiu, Pun Ko-ye, 34, Yee Wing-fu, 30, Wong Ah-keung, 36, Hui Hung-hung, 38, Chiu Ah-hong, 28, and Wong Ah-po, 30.

COMPLAINANTS' EVIDENCE

Fourth Officer, Whitaker testified that after speaking to the second and third officers on board the ship at 9.30 a.m. on Wednesday he walked along an alleyway, which passed the galley, on his way to his cabin. On entering the alleyway he saw four Chinese members of the crew having their meal. He said to them "Excuse me," as he made to go through them; and hearing this, witness alleged, first and second defendants got up and attacked him. He shouted for help and the second and third officers came to his assistance, and managed to subdue the two defendants. Questioned by Mr. Remedios, witness stated that he did not kick the defendants' food about, and that they had no reason for assaulting him.

Second Officer Trethewey gave evidence to the effect that he heard the fourth officer calling for help and went to his aid. He saw first and second defendants assaulting him. When the fourth officer had been taken to see the chief officer, in the absence of the captain, he and the third officer returned to the galley, to identify the persons who had assaulted the fourth officer.

On seeing them at the door of the galley, second defendant picked up a shovel and lunged at the third officer's chest. Third defendant, who was also in the galley, ran away and shouted, with the result that a group of the crew, the defendants, attacked him and the third officer with pokers and stools. The tenth defendant was holding the poker and second defendant held the shovel.

Witness went on to say that he and third defendants struggled with the men in self-defence and in doing so noticed Midshipman Cormichael being attacked by three of the defendants.

Cross-examined, witness declared that the third officer did not strike the second defendant when they went to the galley for identification purposes.

CUTS ON HEAD

Third Officer Nicholls and Midshipman Cormichael both testified to having been assaulted by defendants when they went to their companions.

Chief Engineer J. H. Allis stated that he heard the noise of the trouble and on going on deck stopped the fight. The police were signalled for, and defendants were taken ashore under arrest.

Dr. W. R. Jacques, surgeon on board the ship, testified the second officer had two cuts on the head, and numerous bruises on different parts of the body. The third officer had cuts on the left wrist and on the left breast, and also numbers of abrasions on the body. The midshipman was also bruised on parts of the body.

First defendant gave evidence to the effect that they were eating when the fourth officer came upon them. He said to them "Excuse me." Witness got up and asked the officer to go by the other entrance. The officer, witness continued, then kicked away all the food on the deck. He pushed the officer off but the second defendant struck him.

Second defendant declared the fourth officer kicked a bowl of rice out of his hands. He struck the officer with his elbow. When the second and third officers came to identify him as one of the men who struck the fourth officer, he did not pick up a shovel to hit anyone. He was going to shovel coal and learned from a very reliable source that the Chinese Government either already have, or are about to operate, a daily air mail service between Hankow and Nanking. The Eurasia Corporation already runs a service to Hankow from this Colony.

This means that, with either the road or rail service now in operation between Nanking and Shanghai, a letter posted in Hong Kong will reach Shanghai by air mail in three days, via the overland route.

As there is very little fear of attack by Japanese aircraft in the interior, this route is probably the safest to Shanghai at the present time.

KHAN, NOT SINGH

In our issue on Wednesday we published a case in which an Indian constable was ordered by the Kowloon Magistrate to give one cent compensation to a Chinese youth whom he had assaulted. The name of the constable concerned was Mohamed Khan and not Mohamed Singh.
